NORTH CAROLINA
A PRIME LOCATION FOR SUPPLIERS
As a long-term consequence of COVID-19, many U.S. companies are interested in shortening their supply chains in order to mitigate risk and build resilience following the operational disruptions induced by the coronavirus. By building more localized supply chains, companies will provide a hedge against future shocks to their networks.

This guide provides information about the benefits of locating in North Carolina to be closer to your customers. North Carolina’s key advantages include a robust manufacturing sector, world-class workforce, business-friendly environment, superb transportation network, and state incentives that may help offset the cost of setting up here.

North Carolina’s diverse array of manufacturing – from food processing to automotive to pharmaceuticals – is one reason why leading corporations operate major facilities throughout the state. Our state is the ninth largest in population and ranks third for highest net migration rate in the U.S. With the lowest corporate income tax in the nation and a designation by Forbes as “Best State for Business” three years in a row, more business and individuals are becoming part of our community every day.

NORTH CAROLINA INCENTIVES

Targeted, performance-based incentive programs complement North Carolina’s competitive cost structure and may help offset the cost of setting up here.

The North Carolina Department of Commerce annually ranks the state’s 100 counties based on economic well-being and assigns each a tier designation. The 40 most distressed counties are designated as Tier 1, the next 40 as Tier 2, and the 20 least distressed as Tier 3. This tier system is incorporated into various state programs to encourage economic activity in the less prosperous areas of the state.

The Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina (EDPNC) helps companies navigate the incentive process and connects companies to other resources available at the state and local level.

JOB DEVELOPMENT INVESTMENT GRANT (JDIG)
JDIG is a performance-based, discretionary incentive program that provides cash grants to new and expanding businesses to help offset the cost of locating or expanding a business facility in North Carolina. Companies can qualify for a JDIG based on the project location, number of jobs, and average wage. The grant amount is based on a percentage of the personal income tax withholdings associated with the new jobs. Grant funds are disbursed annually, for up to 12 years, to approved companies following the satisfaction of performance criteria set out in grant agreements. The project must be competitive with locations outside North Carolina and remain competitive until the grant is formally awarded. A company can use JDIG funds for any purpose.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING PROGRAMS
No state has more experience in providing customized training. NC pioneered the nation’s first customized training program in 1958, and since then has provided customized training for thousands of companies in almost every industrial category. The Customized Training Program provides customized training assistance in support of full-time production and direct customer service positions. Resources provided may support training assessment, instructional design, instructional costs, and training delivery for personnel involved. North Carolina will also assist with recruiting, screening, and testing services.

BUILDING REUSE PROGRAMS
North Carolina offers two different programs that provide grants to renovate and upfit vacant industrial and commercial buildings including the Community Development Block Grant Building Reuse Program and the Rural Division’s Building Reuse Program.

ONE NORTH CAROLINA FUND (ONE NC)
One NC is a discretionary cash-grant program that allows the Governor to respond quickly to competitive job-creation projects. The local government must provide an incentive to match the One NC funding. Awards are based on the number of jobs created, level of investment, location of the project, economic impact of the project, and the importance of the project to the state and region. The project must be competitive with locations outside North Carolina and remain competitive until the grant is formally awarded. Awards may be used in new or existing buildings for installation or purchase of equipment, structural repairs and/or renovations, and construction and/or improvements to utility lines.

PUBLIC INFRASTRUCTURE & TRANSPORTATION PROGRAMS
North Carolina offers a number of different programs to fund public infrastructure development, including the Community Development Block Grant Economic Development Program, Utility Account, Rural Division’s Economic Infrastructure Program, NCDOT’s Rail Industrial Access Program, North Carolina Railroad Company’s NCRR Invests program, and the NC Department of Commerce’s Joint Economic Development Program with the NCDOT.

OTHER INCENTIVE PROGRAMS
• NC Biotechnology Center Economic Development Award
• Recycling Business Development Award Grants
• Golden LEAF Foundation Grants
• Building Demolition Programs
• Foreign Trade Zones
• Opportunity Zones

LEADING INDUSTRY CLUSTERS THRIVE IN NC

AEROSPACE & DEFENSE
Dozens of leading aerospace and defense companies operate in North Carolina, including pioneers like GE Aviation, HondaJet, Spirit Aerosystems, and ATI Specialty Materials. With 13% employment growth from 2015-2019, North Carolina’s aerospace manufacturing sector has grown 3x the national average. Companies choose North Carolina for aerospace because of its top-tier labor and innovation pipeline via university aerospace programs, community college vocational training, and robust research partnerships.

PLASTICS & CHEMICALS
The chemicals and plastics industry employs 100,947 people across 2,561 North Carolina establishments. The state is a regional hub for this cluster, ranking first in the Southeast U.S. for total industry employment. Active support organizations include the Polymer Center of Excellence, which facilitates industry partnerships, and assists in the development of emerging technologies in the plastics industry. The Eastman Chemical Company’s Innovation Center at North Carolina State University is an example of an industry-academic partnership that brings together industrial expertise with the valuable knowledge of a world-class research university to produce solutions in chemistry and materials science.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY
North Carolina’s information technology (IT) cluster has grown 12% in the last five years. Frequently dubbed as a hotspot for technology talent by the media (Forbes, Mashable), our state is home to over 47,500 IT workers across 1,963 establishments. In 2019, North Carolina’s educational institutions awarded more than 25,000 degrees and certificates related to science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), ranking second for STEM grads in the Southeastern United States.

LIFE SCIENCES
North Carolina is among the world’s most mature life sciences clusters. 700+ bioscience companies operate in the state employing over 64,500 highly skilled people. 2,400 additional companies provide support to life sciences firms. The state’s life sciences landscape is highly diverse, including contract research organizations, medical device manufacturers, agricultural biotech companies, and health informatics firms. N.C. has the largest biological product manufacturing industry and third largest pharmaceutical industry in the U.S. by total employment. Companies find support across the state’s seven research parks.

AUTOMOTIVE MANUFACTURING
The state employs 29,611 people working directly in the production of cars, trucks, and related transportation equipment. North Carolina is home to 240 automotive manufacturing establishments, and the sector is growing quickly: industry employment has increased 40% since 2010. 28 of the top 100 automotive OEM suppliers in North America operate in the state. Customized training programs through NC’s community college system support the industry’s growth.

TEXTILES & FURNITURE
North Carolina has the second largest textile manufacturing workforce in the country. Over 600 textile establishments employ 33,332 workers and engage in activities ranging from traditional textile operations to engineered fabrics and wearable technology manufacturing. Home to the only college in the U.S. devoted entirely to textiles, North Carolina State University’s Wilson College of Textiles houses several programs that provide research & development, education, and training for N.C.’s textile industry. As the “Furniture Capital of the World,” the state’s concentration of furniture manufacturing jobs is more than 3x the national average. High Point, NC biannually hosts the world’s largest furniture trade show.

FOOD & BEVERAGE MANUFACTURING
The state’s food and beverage manufacturing industry is the 2nd largest in the U.S. by gross economic output. The industry includes over 1,000 establishments with 65,027 workers. With 24 of the largest 50 food and beverage companies operating in NC, employment in this sector has grown 12% over five years. Prominent support organizations such as the NC Department of Agriculture and the NC Food Innovation Lab help connect companies with resources they need to succeed.

BUSINESS & FINANCIAL SERVICES
Top finance companies like Bank of America, Fidelity, and Credit Suisse all have headquarters or major operations in North Carolina. Charlotte, North Carolina is the second largest financial center in the United States according to S&P Global Market Intelligence. The state’s business and financial services cluster employs 375,388 workers. Jobs in this sector have grown 15% in the past five years, one of the highest growth rates in the nation.
THE PERFECT CLIMATE FOR GROWING TALENT

Home to three Tier 1 universities and the #1 city for Millennials, North Carolina is where bright, young people are helping business boom. North Carolina offers one of the nation’s most renowned education systems, supplying companies a pipeline of skilled workers and unparalleled access to R&D resources.

UNIVERSITIES
UNDERGRADUATE & GRADUATE DEGREES

North Carolina has 53 colleges and universities. From Appalachian State University in the mountains to East Carolina University near the coast, the publicly-funded University of North Carolina System draws students from all over the world to its 17 campuses. The state’s three Tier 1 research universities: North Carolina State University, Duke University, and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, are at the cutting edge of education and R&D. Renowned private institutions, such as Wake Forest University and Davidson College, also call North Carolina home.

NCWORKS
